Writing (максимум 40 баллов)

All of us get older. And, of course, when we will get old we want to live a happy and safe life. But what to do when you're living alone?

My personal opinion to this problem is that when elderly people live alone they need to try to have a good relationships with their neighbours. This way they would be able to socialise and don't get depressed and when their health lets them down there would be people to at least call an ambulance.

If to talk about an article that was given, I think that having a technology in your house is a great idea, too! This way elderly people can get an immediate help.

As a conclusion, I think that elderly people should be taken care of when they're alone and there are lots of methods of how to help yourself.
