Writing (максимум 40 баллов)

Helping the elderly is a well-deserved act that requires our attentiveness and care. Even small acts of kindness and attention can have a big impact on them, and make their lives brighter and more comfortable.

Most of them live on retirement, savings, use social benefits, charity and sometimes they are not enough for expensive equipment. But fortunately, since we live in the age of advanced technology, a lot of technology has appeared that can monitor the condition of the elderly.

New tracking systems were created in Japan and have long entered the global market. Although now the elderly can also live alone, it is the best not to leave their relatives.
